

Churchill Pledges Britain for a "Winning Fight" Against Japanese

Navy Department Says:

Yank Troops Trap Japanese on Attu

Continue Blows
Allied Bombers
Round Out Week
Non-Stop Raids

Edmonton, May 19.—(AP)—American planes have closed their trap around Japanese positions on Attu Island, the navy department reported today, and at least a part of the enemy troops are in retreat toward a last ditch stand.

The main enemy position on Attu Island, Navy Secretary Knox reported to a press conference yesterday, is at the southern end of Holtz Bay. A subordinate position is held by the Japanese at Chichagof Harbor, which lies to the northeast of the Holtz Bay position and between five and ten miles away.

The junction of American forces in the heights southeast of Holtz Bay places the Japanese in a position where they are fighting with their backs to sea and have no choice except to make a stand either at Holtz Bay or Chichagof Harbor.

At least a part of the Japanese force is in an unenviable position where they may be compelled to withdraw.

The only place to which they could fall back so far as is known here, would be Chichagof Harbor. To prevent their becoming too strongly entrenched there it seemed likely that at least a part of the American force would strike out in that direction in pursuit of the fleeing troops from pass.

Throughout the Pacific U.S. forces were braced for the possible Japanese counter-attack to their apparently losing battle to hold Attu Island.

Deny Premier May Quit Public Life

Hon. E. C. Manning, provincial secretary and acting premier in the absence of Premier Abernethy who is in hospital at Vancouver, said last night reports heard in legislative circles here that Mr. Abernethy's illness might force him from public life were "just pure speculation."

Mr. Manning revealed that Mr. Abernethy is "not far from a liver ailment." He said treatment of an illness of that kind is "very rarely lengthy, and there is every reason to believe Mr. Abernethy will recover and return to his office."

Although Mr. Abernethy's illness is a serious one, the acting premier said there were "no grounds whatever for assuming that Mr. Abernethy will no longer be able to lead his government."

It is expected that Mr. King will remain at the White House until tomorrow afternoon. The preliminary conversations with the British prime minister and the president started this morning but lasted only briefly due to Mr. Churchill's engagement to speak to congress at 10 p.m.

For that occasion Mr. King will stay at the White House until the executive box.

After this afternoon the conversation among the three statesmen will be resumed and they will continue intermittently until the Canadian prime minister leaves the White House tomorrow afternoon.

Struck by Car.
14-Year-Old
City Boy Dies

One boy was fatally injured in an accident on Tuesday night, and died in hospital a few hours later. A second boy, who was accompanied by his father, escaped injury, when the bicycle they were riding was struck by an auto at 104 street and 43 avenue.

Dead is: Wilfred Cate, 14 years old, of 5400 104 street, who died as a result of his injuries at 2:40 a.m. Wednesday, in University hospital.

A companion, Bob McAllister, 13 years old, of 10381 46 avenue, escaped injury.

W. J. McInnes, of Calgary, told authorities he was driving north on 104 street, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. E. L. Paley, and the boy, who were riding double on a bicycle.

He saw the boys, who were riding double on a bicycle, on 104 street, and saw them being struck by an auto at 104 street and 43 avenue.

As he drew near them, he said, the cycle appeared to swerve. The car caught the machine on the rear wheel, throwing Wilfred Cate, who was on the handlebars, into the air.

The other boy went home, saying he was only scratched in the face.

POLICE INVESTIGATE

Constable J. G. Miles, of the South Side police station was notified and responded, together with Constable Arthur Hamelin, of the city traffic department. In their presence, the injured youth was placed into the car and taken to hospital, where he was admitted in an unconscious condition, at 7:05 p.m. Colin Williams, of 10455 59 avenue, drove the car to the hospital.

Arthur Megaw, service station operator at 4100 street, said he saw the car travelling about 20 to 30 miles an hour at the time.

Date of an inquest was to be set for Monday morning at 10 a.m. at the coroner's court.

Arthur Megaw, service station operator at 4100 street, said he saw the car travelling about 20 to 30 miles an hour at the time.

Determined to Lay Nippon Cities, War Industries in Ashes

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(AP)—Setting his jaw firmly, Prime Minister Churchill pledged today British participation in an eventual finish fight until Japan's war industries and cities are laid in ashes.

Britain, Mr. Churchill said, will be in there fighting "side by side with you while there is breath in our bodies and blood flows in our veins."

When that finish fight will come he did not specify, but his ringing prophecy of utter destruction of the enemy in the Pacific, sounded to a joint session of the United States Congress, went out over the air waves to the world abroad—enemy and Allied countries alike.

Declaration Brings Great Applause

There was thunderous applause from members of Congress and high officials of the British and United States governments as the Prime Minister spread his feet apart, stuck his hands in his pockets in a characteristic gesture and made his declaration.

Then, he disclosed a moment later, he and President Roosevelt hope for a meeting soon with Premier Stalin of Russia and Gen. Chiang Kai-shek of China.

Mr. Churchill declared also that Britain's air offensive is forcing Germany to withdraw "more and more" planes from the fighting fronts to "purely defensive" operations at the expense of loss of aggression and initiative.

This, he said, will prove a "major factor in bringing victory."

Japan's Cities Will Lie in Ashes

As for Japan's cities and war industries, Mr. Churchill flatly declared:

"In ashes they must surely lie before peace comes to the world."

"I regard the bringing of immediate and effective aid to China," Mr. Churchill said, "as one of the most urgent of our common tasks."

He turned to a discussion of the war in the Pacific soon after beginning his extemporaneous remarks, as if taking note of recent speeches in the United States Senate urging that the war against Japan be given precedence over the destruction of Hitler and Mussolini in Europe.

"Much To Be Repaid"

Recounting the loss of the Netherlands East India and of the Malayan Peninsula and the great British base at Singapore, Mr. Churchill said that "all this has to be retrieved and much else has to be repaid."

Let no one suggest, the Prime Minister said, that Britain has not at least as great interest in the Pacific war as the United States.

With America's high officials and dignitaries of her Allies sitting in the house and senate in joint session, Mr. Churchill was making his first public appearance since his arrival more than a week ago for war talks with President Roosevelt.

Brought Experts From India

He brought with him Field Marshal Sir Archibald Wavell and other military leaders from the India theatre, but he told his audience, he did not bring them here "merely to improve the health and happiness of the Mikado of Japan."

They were brought here, he added, to thrust out all the points raised in a Pacific war "and there are many."

If all that is necessary to turn British forces in the east upon Japan is an order, he said, "then that order would be given this afternoon."

But he added that such movements are governed by what American military leaders "call the science of logistics"—the art of supplying military forces.

Ring of Guards Circle Capitol

A ring of armed guards was stationed around the Capitol for Mr. Churchill's visit. Helmeted troops, armed with rifles, were posted at 20-foot intervals to form an outer circle, while others did sentinal duty at the entrances.

Spectators cheered as Mr. Churchill entered the Capitol building. In his party were such dignitaries as Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada; the Duke and Duchess of Windsor; Crown Princess Marika of Norway; Myron Taylor, special ambassador of President Roosevelt to the Vatican; and Bernard M. Baruch, presidential consultant.

At the Capitol, Mr. Churchill's group divided, some attending to the military training camp at Vernon, B.C.

Others went to the military training camp at Vernon, B.C.

Prices Board Announces: Rationing of Meat Will Start May 27

During 1943
177,000 Men Required For Three Services

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—Defence Minister Ralston told the House of Commons last night that this year looks like a year of "thick and thin" and he announced that this year's program was aimed to send the army overseas reinforced and equipped.

He said that it was the intention to send 75,000 men overseas in the current fiscal year but that he was not announcing any new formations.

To supply adequate reinforcements and equipment and maintain proper reserves was the program for the three armed services would be required in the current fiscal year.

Year of Action

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—Coupon rationing of meat will go into effect May 27, the Prices Board announced today. After midnight, May 26, meat may only be purchased with the surrender of brown paper "A" coupons.

The first pair of these coupons, marked No. 1, becomes valid on May 27. Another pair will become valid on May 28.

Coupons, becoming good before the 15th of a month, expire at the end of that month. Coupons becoming good on or after the 15th of a month, expire at the end of the following month.

After midnight of May 26 it will be unlawful for any consumer to buy rationed meat without surrendering valid coupons and unlawful for anyone to sell to a consumer rationed meat without the coupons.

The board said in its announcement today.

RATIONED MEATS

Rationed meats are beef, veal, pork, mutton and lamb. "Fancy" cuts, such as brisket, tongue, liver, brains, testicles, and kidneys, and cooked sausage such as bologna and wieners are not to be rationed. Cuts containing 30 per cent or more of bone, such as steaks, chops and pig knuckles are also exempt.

The board yesterday announced that the rationing of meat will have varying coupon values. Under the plan, the weekly individual ration will be from one pound to two and one-half pounds, depending on the type of meat purchased.

Charts showing the coupon value of various meats are to be displayed in butcher shops and distributed at all households.

"Meat retailers, although required to collect coupons from May 27, will not be required to tender coupons for their supplies for a period of two weeks after the start of the rationing plan," the board said.

"This will make it possible for them to accumulate ration documents against their purchases and thus maintain their stocks."

Hunt More Action For Reserve Army

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—A hint that the government is looking for more action for the Canadian Reserve Army—now 100,000 strong—was given in the House of Commons yesterday by Defence Minister Ralston.

"We are taking active steps toward giving them additional operational responsibilities," he said.

He said that additional operational responsibilities were considered particularly in the coastal areas.

"This will apply especially to the infantry and anti-aircraft units," he said.

IS HITLER SLEEPING AT YOUR HOUSE?

Few know where the arch-criminal rests his weary, wicked head—but if you have a spare room, he is not the one to ask a war-woker, you are, in effect, his host.

Welcome a war worker into your home. Afford him a place to get rest; he needs to keep him on the job and his production of war materials at peak.

He'll pay you and pay you well. In addition to this favor you do him—and the added income you get you have the satisfaction of making a further and vital contribution to the winning of the war.

In Tunisia Battle 267,000 Axis Troops Captured

By NOLAN HOGAARD
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, May 19.—(AP)—Total German and Italian losses in the Tunisian campaign from the smashing of the Mareth line to the overrunning of the last Axis resistance in North Africa were 267,000 men, including an estimated 30,000 killed, 27,000 seriously wounded and 207,000 captured, it was announced officially today.

Of the 267,000 Axis prisoners taken since the British 8th Army began the attack on May 24, the bulk of the prisoners were taken during the Mareth line, 22,000 were captured within the period May 1-4 May, 18,000 in the Mareth line, and 163,000 in the Tunisian campaign.

Official sources said the exact number of prisoners was not yet available, but were the largest of the immense quantities of enemy war materials captured or destroyed.

Running True to Form

A Japanese submarine commander has again attested the right of his country to recognition as a full-fledged member of the world. Revolving as it is, both as an act and in the stark defiance of international law, the torpedoing of a hospital ship off the coast of Australia has awakened no surprise. It is precisely the kind of thing that would be expected of the captain of an Axis U-boat, whichever he might be. As the world travels in the right company. As between them and their Nazi and Fascist partners there is not much to choose, and the kind of human life and the keeping of pledges to honorable conduct.

The torpedoing of a hospital ship is a per with the sinking of a passenger liner in mid-ocean and the unwarranted sinking of a merchantman. Of one or every member of the Axis has been guilty. If either offense has not been committed, then the name of any Axis submarine commander it has to be assumed that the opportunity did not arise, not that the will was absent. The moral basis of the standards by which civilized men govern their conduct.

Peace and Production

Most Edmonton house-holders are putting in gardens this year, or have already done so in anticipation that the delayed start would amount to some loss. They are doing this not only because they like to garden but because they like to eat and because that supplies are hard to come by. The family garden is far more important this year than it ordinarily is, and of much more value in the eyes of the owners. It is not a hobby but a business proposition.

Before a crisis develops on the home front the owners of dogs—and other domestic pets—should remember that these are required by law to be kept on the owner's premises. This is fairly well understood, but between the understanding of the law and the understanding of the dog is a gap. This may have a lot to do with the matter in winter, but it takes on a different significance at present. A Victory Garden and a neighbor's dog or chickens do not mix with advantage to the garden. And since gardens are much more important than the wanderlust of dogs and chickens it is in the interest of the owner to take these potential wreckers of gardens and destroyers of neighborhood goodwill.

He's a Busy Man

Gestapo chief Himmler has been sent to Bulgaria, further proof that King Boris is in trouble with his money subjects. And suggesting also that the head butcher's services in Italy were not in prospect of suppressing the discontent there, since he was only summoned to Mussolini's aid a fortnight ago. The situation in the peninsula may have been found to be beyond remedy, or at least not susceptible to cure by massacre.

As Himmler is only sent when superlativity is required, the Axis grip on Bulgaria must be weakening under pressure of popular resistance. The fact that he is sent to Bulgaria as intractable as the Bulgarians is quite possible. They were steered into the war by an adroit combination of treasury, force and bribery. The party was strong before Russia entered the war. It was backed by German military forces sent to the aid of Bulgaria, and a scrap of territory lost by Bulgaria in the former great war were restored as a sop to non-Nazi sentiment.

Bulgarian loyalty was strained when Hitler attacked Russia. It has been weakened by the loss of Bulgarian troops sent to fight on the eastern front, and again by the Fuehrer's recent demand for more. If Himmler can terrorize the Bulgarians by his well known methods he will have to employ these on a wholesale plan. That he will do this is rather doubtful.

Canada's Financial Power

Not least among the benefits from the successful flotation of the Fourth Victory Loan is the new conception Canadians now have of the extent of their financial resources.

In the last three weeks the people of this Dominion bought more bonds than ever bought in any one month. In this month before the campaign opened they had bought the largest issue ever offered to them up to that time. Over a twelve month period they have bought more Government with nearly $2,000,000,000 of new money—more than that amount if the trade-in of old bonds last fall is taken into account.

Not long ago the Government of the United States asked the people of this Dominion to buy $15,000,000,000 worth of bonds. They bought $17,000,000,000 worth. To have matched the achievement of Canadians over the past twelve months, the United States would have had to run to more than $20,000,000,000.

The United States is the richest country in the world, and the generosity of its people in responding to a Government call for funds is proverbial. Canadians are certainly travelling in good company when they give peace bonds for financial operations of their neighbors; there is none better.

It is time for Little Canadians to revise their notion of the financial power of their country. The head-waggers should go permanently out of business. They told us one lie after another to a point where the campaign was announced—that it was just impossible to sell another $1, 100,000,000 worth of bonds. It was not enough money in the country, and so on, and so on. Well, the bonds were bought.

What is more—it did it once and we can do it again. And we will do it again, and yet again, until the Axis is smashed and the world is free.

General Mikhailovitch isn't letting Tunisia and the Caucasus get all the attention. He reports that in a recent encounter his Yugoslav guerrillas killed 475 Italian soldiers and captured 730—along with several tanks, a score of trucks, a truck-load of ammunition, four heavy guns and seventy machine-guns. Yugoslavia is one of a number of good places in which to land an Allied army—when the time comes.

Moscow announced that Red air forces destroyed 1,300 Nazi planes in two weeks, losing only 339 of their own. The preliminary air bout on the eastern front may have something to tell us about the delay in starting his third summer offensive against Russia. In each of the other fronts he has the advantage of air superiority. Since he could not form a decision with it, the chance of breaking up the Red army without it cannot look bright.

Ninety tons of war supplies have been flown to India in new type cargo planes which made the trip from the United States in four and a half days without any loss. Ninety tons of munitions do not signify much in this war, but the fact that they were transported so far in so little time means a good deal in several ways. For one thing it means that Hitler's submarines can't prevent the flow of supplies into China getting all the block-busters they need whenever they need them. Tojo's munitions makers in Kyushu won't sleep any sounder for knowing that.

Looking Backward

From The Bulletin Files

1893: 50 Years Ago

Last night's rain was the heaviest in the same space of time since July, 1888. Nearly two inches of rain fell.

C. M. Woodward, barrister, late of Halifax, Nova Scotia, has opened a law office in the Imperial Bank block here.

The Edmonton excitement in the Palace district of Washington and Idaho has naturally given rise to some excitement in the local people there are in the humor to better their conditions by removal, many are doing all they can by misrepresentation of various kind to get where they are.

The first post office meeting it was decided that a fire hall 50x50 of solid brick should be built, with stone foundation, to cost about $6,500. It was decided to raise the money by a subscription of $10 and for a double duty to $25; that water carriages be sent to the city for two vehicles and $10 each; that the building should be erected in the city.

Anglo-American Relations World's Most Vital Thing

Political Strategy Ranks With Military Strategy In War Problems

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

An English school boy, according to "Punch," was asked "What is the most important thing in a war?" He replied, "God, love, and Anglo-American relations."

If Anglo-American relations are so important in Roosevelt and Churchill, they are in good hands. For both are great men, and their peoples, the shape of things to come. Both know, and have known from the beginning that the future of western civilization and of the world depends on the Anglo-American combination.

Both have gone through terrible crisis, with severity and fortitude. In the case of the United States, it was the war with Germany. In the case of England, it was the war with Germany. In the case of the United States, it was the war with Germany. In the case of England, it was the war with Germany.

Only now, when Britain, Russia, the United States and China realize the value of Anglo-American relations, is it too late. The world is now in a state of confusion. The world is now in a state of confusion. The world is now in a state of confusion.

TORONTO, May 19.—(CP)—Six-man lacrosse will be played in the Quebec Association this year.

Player shortage was partly responsible for the decision to drop one man but officials hope the six-man game will result in less body contact and faster play.

Hockey was speeded up by the main game and lacrosse should get the same result. If the streamlined game is unsatisfactory, the Quebec group will revert to seven men for the second half the season, which opens May 25.

By, bye, rugby:

British Columbia and the married were Canada's last stronghold of English rugby. New rugger is reported going strong

War-time wisdom:

Many sports organizations are in a bind for money. Surplus mon-

Colleges Give

By HARRY GRAYSON

CHICAGO, May 19.—(AP)—The war has been won. But John L.

Griffith hopes that whenever one suggests that it is wrong for colleges to let game receipts to the British war effort, someone else will remind him of what looked like in 1941, '42 and '43.

Major Griffith means what he said. He is the physical education program at more than 100 institutions at a time when the nation needs them more than ever.

The commissioner of the Big Ten has an official stamp on what was directly predicted in this column

several months ago: Physical education programs go out with football.

Years ago when some suggested that physical training programs should be financed in the same way that rhetoric, chemistry and Latin are financed, George Huff, who built as well as Illinois, wisely observed that he saw no reason why a widow who owned a house and never attended a football game at the University should be taxed for the athletics when a great many people living within easy distance of the stadium afford willing to pay a reasonable price for tickets.

WOULD LOSE MONEY

Most schools that discontinued all or part of their intercollegiate programs for financial reasons so because they were afraid they would lose money by carrying on the season, seem to regret their decision as they find that they would not have enough young men to play and that Major Griffith ventures the opinion that there will be as many boys at those colleges as ever, though when football was first started.

enough boys who want exercise in any manner they can conceive.

University Ball for Graduands Climax to Gala Entertainments

FOR the 321 students of the University of Alberta who Tuesday afternoon received their diplomas and degrees at the thirty-third annual Convocation of the University, the annual graduation ball held Tuesday evening proved to be a fitting climax to three exciting days. Always the gayest and yet in many ways the saddest of all the many affairs planned to celebrate graduation, the ball was held in the main dining room of the Macdonald hotel and, like the ceremony itself, was strictly formal. The first dancing was for the University year to year couples, and the dancing for the guests for both the roads and their parents.

The most outstanding social function of the varsity year, the ball is permeated with a spirit of satisfaction at work well done and yet a mood of unhappiness at the prospect of losing friends and plane acquaintances. The close of the evening witnessed many good-byes rather than au revoirs.

BETH CARTER, WAAC

By LORETTA COOPER

THE STORY: Beth Carter, WAAC, has volunteered for a dangerous mission. After she has received her orders, she is being taken to her immediate superior, Major M. J. Jackson, for a tour in the Pacific. Major M. J. Jackson has explained to her the importance of the mission. Beth is to be in charge of a team of five women, who are to be in charge of the air attack. Beth is to be in charge of the air attack. Beth is to be in charge of the air attack.

CHAPTER III

A PAIR of jet fighter planes left the office. It took Beth a moment to realize what Major Jackson had said. When she joined the WAACs, Beth supposed she would "fight" the war at a desk, doing type-writing, just as she had done in civilian life until the automobile agency closed. Now she was in the thick of the war, even if from a statistical point of view this position was not a very large one. She arose and peered out of the side window. She had barely glimpsed the two attackers before Major Jackson had yanked her back down into the protected part of the Fort.

"Don't do that," he yelled. "I don't want to lose you to soon!" The sentence clung for a second to the recesses of Beth's mind. Then she cast it aside, almost with a guilty feeling. She had come out here to be a soldier, not to develop a romantic interest in the first commanding officer she met. Yet those words sounded, in their way so good, as if she had not been and the Japs were coming in on the Fort, she would have known in a few seconds anyway. She felt the Fort's momentum shiver, and she heard the rattle of machine guns.

Beth Jackson had gone forward. She was alone. True, there were men around her, but each was so identified with a task, and so engrossed in it, that none had time for her. She was as safe as they could make her. She heard the machine guns again, and saw one of the centre gunners, his face grim, pivot his weapon around in pursuit of a Zero.

She saw his lips move. She knew by his face that he knew. Disappointment packed every line of space from the setness of his lips to the depths of his serious eyes. There was no time for thought or flight. The din was intermittent, but terrific when it came. Several times Beth realized that if it were not for the Fort's armor, the fight would have been lost.

By the angle of the floor she knew the plane was climbing steeply. It had shaken the Japs for a minute. Then the climb leveled off and ended.
